

Our hardware and software costs are half what they were in 2009

David Banes, Principal Consultant, Cleartext Systems

IS YOUR BUSINESS GETTING THE MOST OUT OF ITS I.T. BUDGET?

Did you know that there's a revolution happening in IT systems right now and it's very possible you could spend less and get a lot more for your money.

The social media revolution has spun off information technology systems that can significantly improve efficiency within your business. That means you'll have more to spend on lead generation.

David Banes is an independent IT Consultant who helps business owners deploy information & communications technology to improve their business.
